1 1 Shares There are no perfect cleanups. However, sometimes a few of them can be found in far away places. This is exactly what happened when we had the Nikon D7000 for a week and went to different places. We were quite surprised, because all of them were dirty in a different way. Sometimes they had only the building's walls, at other times there were walls, a door, chairs, the tables, everything. But all of them had the same color, they were brownish. Besides that, there was some trash with different kinds of greasy materials. Also there were other surprises. At first we thought that these sites were not real, but later found out that they were. We also thought that the water was also dirty and that there was some kind of stink. In reality, all of them were clean, perfectly clean, there were no trash, no water nor any kind of smell. It seemed like these places were cleansed by a laundry service. So it seems that there are no perfect cleanups. And that is only the tip of the iceberg. We went to many of these cleansed areas. Sometimes we went in groups. However, sometimes we did not find anybody in these clean places. We even thought that the cleansed places were filled with trash. We were surprised and happy to find out that this was not the case. We found out that this is a real thing called "renovatio." And this is a "cleansed area" called "Sanctuarium." Some of the pictures we took are from there. This is it. Renovatio in Latin means renovation, and is something which one should not miss out. The Pope gives everybody the opportunity to do a renovation in their home. However, it will not be mandatory. However, we thought this would be good advice for everyone. Some of these places are near the Vatican. Sanctuarium is a Church entity. It is located in Rome, in via Sancti Petri Custodii, between the Vatican and Castel Sant'Angelo. Renovatio happens from 3:00PM to 8:00PM from Monday to Saturday. There are a lot of areas in Rome that are already cleaned up. Some of them are: -the loggia of the Vatican (in via

Shop Menu "While the phrasing of the Crying Jordan meme has evolved over the years, the concept remains the same: putting a rock star-like expression on the eyes of a person - a way to make them look like they're sobbing - and then put the image into circulation on the internet." "Since the meme gained popularity a few years ago, it has been used to make fun of singers such as Katy Perry, Rihanna and even Justin Bieber. But it could also be used to make fun of Jordan himself. " I had no idea that ABBA was still performing. It was time to visit my brothers and sisters, past and present. As a child, I caught them in the kitchen, playing a game. They were singing something without moving their lips. Before I turned the TV off, I heard them repeating the same sound. Their way of showing laughter or amusement. Even as adults, they all smiled that way. Even Jose. When we were in school, we were taught that a person who laughs too loud is not funny. Yet, jokes are meant to be funny. The aim of jokes is usually to make people laugh. Is the humor, then, to laugh at the wrong person. Should we laugh at another people's suffering? "Man, you're crazy. You're always laughing and smiling." Not since I was five, I remember telling that. My mother said: "Son, we know how to smile. We also know how to cry, and how to feel sorry." She told me: "Son, there are no smiles without tears. You will know the joy of your heart's sorrow. And the sorrow of the sorrow of your heart's joy." I don't believe she's right. Yes, we laughed and smiled. As children, we laughed and smiled. As adults, we still laugh and smile. It's our way of showing our sorrow when a beloved person dies, of showing our joy when we're happy. We cry tears of joy and tears of sorrow. We smile faces of joy and smiles of sorrow. The laughter we share, is like the laughter we cry. Like the tears we share. The laughter shared is really sorrowful. Yes. It is true. We make people laugh and smile because we share the sorrows and the joys of our hearts. We share joys and sorrows.Each Wednesday on
